Who is YCT for?

YCT-Level I is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for three months, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 80 basic characters and related sentences.

YCT-Level II is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for half an academic year, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 150 basic characters and related sentences.

YCT-Level III is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for one academic year, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 300 common words and related sentences.

YCT-Level IV is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for more than an academic year, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 600 common characters and related sentences.

YCT Speaking Test (Beginner Level) is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for half to one year, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 200 basic characters and related sentences.

YCT Speaking Test (Intermediate Level) is intended for young learners who have studied Chinese for more than one year, with 2-3 class hours per week, and have learned 400 basic characters and related sentences.

The Perth YCT Test Centre at the Confucius Institute at UWA offers all the 4 levels of YCT Written Test twice a year in August and November, and 2 levels of Speaking Tests in November. Please see the specific test dates in the document “YCT-Information-Dates-Fees-Venue”.